

BERCOMEX CHRYMO COMBI BINDER

One machine for all sachets:
liquid and powder flower food automatically added

One solution for all flower food sachets

Until recently, separate machines were required for powder and liquid sachets. This meant that growers and processors had to choose between the two options or invest in two separate binding machines.

In collaboration with Chrysal International, Bercomex has now developed a smart solution for this problem: the Chrymo Combi Binder. It's one machine that can handle both types of flower food. This results in significant savings in costs, space, and labor.

Maximum efficiency with minimal downtime

The Chrymo Combi Binder offers dual functionality: with one machine you can process both liquid and powder sachets. Thanks to the easily changeable dispensers, you can quickly switch between both sachet types, resulting in a flexible and efficient production process.

The maintenance of the machine is simple. The removable dispenser can be replaced in just 4 minutes, which minimizes downtime and increases productivity. This saves the maintenance team time and effort.
